Re Denver teletype to the Bureau, dated 12/29/89.

For information of the file, on 1/17/90, the facts in this matter were discussed with SA [redacted] U. S. SECRET SERVICE (USSS), who advised as follows:

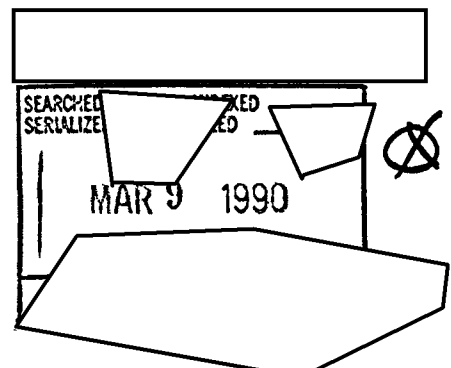

b6 per USSS
b7C per USSS

First of all, the USSS has equipment in place to scan bills at the FEDERAL RESERVE that would preclude the $6,000 in twenties from passing through that location. Secondly, it is the opinion of the USSS that no photocopier exists that would produce a counterfeit bill of the quality that would pass inspection by anyone who normally handles legitimate currency, as determined through a USSS ongoing survey of such equipment.

He did advise, however, that the USSS would assist this investigation in every possible way to determine if a violation exists.
